NOTES FROM PALMER

CHURCH SERVICES.
CHRISTIAN—Preaching alternate Sundays at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school every Sunday at 10 a. m.
EPISCOPAL—Regular services at St. Mark's Episcopal Church on the second Sunday of each month, at 11 a. m.
METHODIST—Sundays—Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.; Sunday school at 10 a. m.; Children's meeting at 3:30 p. m.; Epworth League at 7:30 p. m.; Prayer meeting every Thursday at 8:30 p. m., followed by choir practice.

Palmer, Nov. 13.
 Cards are out for the marriage, November twenty-fifth, of Miss Mabel L. Seeley to Mr. Joseph M. McKay, both young society people of Palmer.

Sheriff Hollister was in Palmer Monday. John is the same good-natured fellow as of yore, and we will elicit him sheriff again sometime.

Mr. and Mrs. Her's little daughter Iris is pretty sick at this writing. We hope nothing serious will occur, for Iris is a favorite in Palmer.

Mrs. Harry Webber left Thursday for an extensive visit east. She first visits with friends in Omaha, after which she goes to Ft. Madison, Ia., where she will make quite a stay. Ft. Madison is her girlhood home, and it will be pleasant for her to see the familiar haunts and faces of her young life after such a long absence.

I. J. Nicholas was a Central City pilgrim Tuesday last, having been drawn as a number of that great uncertainty, a petit jury, to decide the fates of the meek and lowly and all who forget to walk in the path that is strait and narrow.

John Colborn, supervisor of this district, went down to Central City Tuesday to attend a bymaker of that most powerful body of adjusters of the people's troubles.

Mrs. Thos. H. Fiddler went down to Malcolm Wednesday to consult with Dr. Lewridge, of that place, in reference to the advisability of her undergoing an operation for a complication that has kept her in very uncertain health for several years past. We trust that something successful may terminate from this visit, for Mrs. Fiddler has been a very great and silent sufferer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCormick, of Aurora, who have been visiting with relatives and friends in and around Palmer for the past ten days, returned to their home Tuesday last. Mr. McCormick is one of Jim Hill's chaffeurs and has always brought his responsibility safe to port as long as it stayed on the track, regardless of time or freight rates.

About two o'clock Friday morning every one who had a telephone was called by our central office, and a cry of fire sounded all over town. On investigation it was found that the jewelry store of D. E. Stouter, situated on the corner of Commercial Street and Rawlins Avenue, was on fire to such an extent that it was impossible to save any part of it. Within four feet, east of this building, stood the millinery store of Mrs. Ida Lambert, a much larger building than the jewelry store, but which, by some of the hardest work we ever saw done, was saved with very slight damage to the building. We must right here commend our boys for the magnificent fight they made against the fire, and it must be deplored that such material as they showed they are composed of could not have better tools than a bucket and kicking pump to work with. Mr. Stouter believes he lost about two thousand dollars, with thirteen hundred insurance.

DOINGS AT HORDVILLE

Hordville, Nov. 13.
 Sunday visiting was postponed by several families on account of the cold wave that struck this town.

John Nicholson and his carpenter, Mr. Johnson, took in Omaha Sunday. Mark Castle, Elmer Nicholson and John Swanson are hauling hay north of Central City before the snow comes.

Mr. Nicholson has his new house plastered and is building his barn.

Miss Plank is teaching at Arborville, and not at the Litzenberg school house.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill visited their daughter, Mrs. Cristy, that lives in Merrick County, and brought back their daughter, Blanche Cristy, who has been visiting Edgar Draper and family for several weeks at Loup City.

Several farmers will get through husking corn this week, and perhaps news will not be quite so scarce, for when a person is husking corn he has no time to talk.

Mrs. Vern Wright, from Lincoln, was up last week visiting her sister.

The roofs are being put on the new brick stores at Hordville. That means the stores will soon be occupied.

Any one wanting to hunt rabbits ought to go down to Osborn, Kansas. Mrs. Blank, who lives in that locality, has been writing us, and she says in the evening the rabbits get on the alfalfa fields and they look like a herd of sheep and eat the alfalfa roots and all.

Oliff Froid, who has been working at Hordville for some time, leaves for Clarks to-day.

Gus Larson is certainly going to have turkey for Thanksgiving. He has bought one that surely tips the scales at twenty pounds.

NEWS FROM ARCHER

Archer, Nov. 12.
 Miss Laura Getsinger, from Central City, has taken a position with Wagner & Bonness as clerk in the ladies' furnishing department. Henry has been promoted to the foremanship of the chicken department.

Mr. John Holtz is fixing up the road near his house—a much needed improvement.

It is reported that there is to be a wedding in the German settlement this week.

Fred Wegner had a large sale at his place west of here last Thursday. We understand that Mr. Wegner has purchased the implement business of Wegner & Bonness of this place and will soon become a resident of Archer.

Miss Lucile Grieve, from Central City, spent Sunday with Frank Zam-zow's family.

J. D. Samuel is laid up with the rheumatism.

Ha? What? Who? Me? No!!!! These were the words uttered by Frank Tachmier when it was announced that he was elected constable. This news, together with the report that he had won the trombone in the raffle, was more than "Tack" could stand without buying a box of cigars. Chris Franks, Mr. Tachmier's opponent, attributes his defeat to the manner in which he loaded his gun halloween night.

J. Henry Durst, the Democratic candidate for justice of the peace, defeated the Republican nominee, Geo. M. Ayres by six majority, Mr. Durst running especially well among the farmers, whose complete confidence he had secured some years ago while selling wagon jacks. The Ridge Gang, elated over Judge Durst's election, proceeded at once to make merry over the victory. With Judge Durst in their midst they commenced a serenade, equalled only by the reception tendered to the Dovey Doves. And the Judge, greatly puffed up, not entirely over his election, but because of the congratulations heaped upon him by his admirers, busted his main support, his suspenders, at the crossing directly over the solar plexus. The Esquire in a few choice words expressed his gratitude by presenting the leader of the regulators with his fine gold watch, bearing beneath the bezel a likeness of the future Mrs. Judge Durst Esquire. The Judge then proceeded to don a new pair of trousers, after which he announced his intentions of upholding the law to the full extent of his ability. "Pap" Mulford and Adam Suck can now feel safe from any farther attacks upon their premises by the unprincipled battering rams, and they may thank their great party for the protection given them by the obstinate, determined Democrats.

Fresh barrel of red salmon at C. Orre's.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McDonald, who have been visiting for a couple of weeks in Lyons, went through Chapman Friday on their way home to Cairo.

And Now It's Hordville.

Stromsburg News.—After two years of political juggling with the name of this postoffice, a part of which time our citizens lived in Stark, another part of which time they have lived in Hordville, and still a larger part of which neither they nor the outside world knew where they lived, the matter is finally and eternally settled and the name of our growing little village is fixed once for all as Hordville.

This announcement was phoned to C. V. Nelson, cashier of the Hordville Bank, last Saturday by Congressman Hinshaw, who has just been officially informed of the change from the department at Washington. And it came as a result of a large petition sent to the department in the middle of the summer and of a personal visit of Congressman Hinshaw to Hordville a few weeks ago, during which he found that the sentiment of the people of Hordville was practically unanimous in favor of the latter name.

With the settlement of this annoying question the people of Hordville and surrounding country will go ahead and take renewed interest in the building up of this progressive little village and the outside politicians who "butted in" and made all the trouble will now have to march on to new and greener fields.—Hordville Correspondence.
